

T'es mon genre is recruiting young people aged 18 to 25 in the Villeray–Saint-Michel-Parc-Extension neighborhood who are questioning their gender identity to form a safe space to engage with each other.

Meetings will take place twice a month. Participants will be able to develop their creativity and leadership skills, build networks and get involved in a project with a concrete social impact in their neighborhood.

If you have any questions about the project, please contact :
